(c) Examiners or Boards of Examiners should be asked to report which students should be allowed to take Deferred Examinations.

Resignations.

44. At the September meeting of the Senate the resignations of Dr. A. J. Nicholson, Lecturer in Entomology, and Dr. F. C. Benham, Lecturer in Economics, were received and accepted.

Dr. Nicholson becomes Deputy Chief of the Entomological Division of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research.

Dr. Benham has accepted a position on the teaching staff in the London School of Economics.

Australasian Medical Congress.

45. A meeting of the Australasian Medical Congress was held in the University buildings in the month of September, the Senate making available all the facilities of the University to the Executive Officers.

In conveying deep appreciation of the kindness and courtesy shown by the Senate, the Executive Committee of the Congress forwarded a cheque for £150 for the general funds of the University, the amount being the surplus after paying incidental expenses.

Busby Musical Scholarship.

46. In December the Senate adopted new conditions for the award of the Busby Musical Scholarship, whereby the Busby Scholar will have the privilege of playing either on the University organ or on the War Memorial Carillon. The Scholar is to be recommended to the Senate for appointment by the Organ Committee and the War Memorial Carillon Executive Committee, preference to be given, other things being equal, to a candidate with some experience of Carillon playing. At the present time the University organ needs to be completely overhauled and provided with a new action before it can be made available to students.

Electric Light in the Great Hall.

47. Following upon the artistic illumination of the Great Hall by the Electrical Employers' Association of N.S.W., Mr. W. H. Myers, Chief Electrical Engineer of the N.S.W. Railways, has installed in the Great Hall two lamp fittings similar
